Mecessary In Every Home For Health and Economy

INCE the World began, the preserving of food has been a problem both in business and in the home. To check the inroads of bacteria, food must be kept in the "health zone" - above 42 and below 50 degrees F.

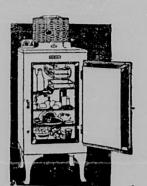

HE first noteworthy advance in the preservation of food was the invention of the insulated ice box and the storage of ice gathered in the Winter from some nearby lake. Later came the manufacture of artificial ice and still later the use of electric refrigeration in the home.

SINGING AT NEWBIA

There will be an all-day singing to the cow? How long should a good pasture be used or how long will it last? These are a few of the questions we are going to talk about this time.

A good pasture is a piece of ground set aside for pasture purposes, that has been properly selected, carefully arranged, well present the component of the cow? How long should a good pasture to come to your lot as you are thus enabled to use your buildings and fences in the caring for and the handling of your cattle. Of course pure water is very necessary, but we are blessed with good water in practically every section which is suitable for cattle. Remember that the damp
